About Asia Pacific CSR Council

The purpose of the council is to advance the Sustainable Development Goals of the United Nations. Working hand in hand with local enterprises and NGOs, the council contributes to, and supports the advancement of sustainability in the Asia Pacific private and public sector. The Council defines Corporate Responsibility as a company's belief that the true measure of its wealth is directly linked to its efforts to better its employees and the communities in which it does business. Actions driving corporate citizenship are fluid and effortless as they are embedded in the organization's value system. While many companies' CSR efforts started with a focus on society welfare, this is only one aspect of CSR. A holistic approach to CSR embodies consistent work in the following areas: Diversity & Inclusion, Environmental Sustainability, Governance, Organizational Health and Philanthropy.

Past Winner

Sustainable Urban Transport Conference & Awards

Sustainable Urban Transport Conference & Awards celebrates the successes that have been achieved on so many national and local transport projects that contributed to the societal well-being. As always, these projects have shown the judges the tangible results they've achieved, improving the experience for their transport users and ultimately adding to the successful development of the nation's transport sustainable urban transport infrastructure. The awards recognises excellence in transport and reward innovation and progress for sustainable urban transport initiatives which are really working in Kuala Lumpur and Malaysia. The Sustainable Urban Transport Awards are pivotal in recognising the talent, energy and drive that our city's transport professionals devote to delivering millions of safe journeys every day.
